

JUST LIKE YOU

All the people you think of as great or as famous,
Oh, they didn't start out that way.
They have something in common, yes, something in common.
No idea they'd be famous one day.

EVERYONE:

They were just like you, they were just like you.
They were little children once, it's true.
And they did all the things that boys and girls do.
And they grew and they grew, and they grew.

All the people you think of as great or as famous,
They really all started the same.
They had something in common,
Yes, something in common.
Before you ever heard of their name.

EVERYONE:

They were just like you, they were just like you.
They were little children once, it's true.
And they did all the things that boys and girls do.
And they grew and they grew, and they grew.

All the people you think of as great or as famous,
Oh, they didn't start out that way.
They have something in common, yes, something in common.
No idea they'd be famous one day.

They were just like you, they were just like you.
They were little children once, it's true.
And they did all the things that boys and girls do.
And they grew and they grew, and they grew.
Like you!